AGRICULTURAL FACILITY DESIGNER

DESCRIPTION: Riverview, LLP is an agribusiness with operations in Arizona, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, and South Dakota. We are involved in beef, crops, construction, and dairy. We are a growing company and are currently looking for a full-time Agricultural Facility Designer. This role is to design future facilities (i.e., dairy, beef, and others) with permitting, cost of production, constructability, and longevity in mind.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Work directly with the project development team to design, lay out, and permit new facilities
- Produce plans that comply with applicable laws (e.g., setbacks, ordinances, state regulations, etc.)
- Create a deliverable set of site parameters to the construction design group
- Develop relationships with individuals internally involved in the site development process
 - E.g., Riverview's management, finance, permitting, and construction groups
- Develop and manage relationships with firms involved in the design and permitting phase of projects
 - E.g., civil engineering, water exploration, geotechnical, and state/county/local agencies
- Develop relationships that promote design improvements and actively seek feedback on site design
 - E.g., site management, construction, maintenance, trucking, and herd health
- Manage and facilitate pre-permit design and research needs
 - E.g., site research, boundary and topographical surveys, soil borings, and water exploration
- Manage information in a logical way—set up systems that are scalable
- Teach others at every opportunity—help others understand rationale behind specific site features

REQUIREMENTS:

- 5+ years of large-scale agricultural facility design experience
- Competent in AutoCAD-based design software
- Creative mind with strong attention to detail
- Organized: Plans, organizes, and prioritizes in an efficient manner
- Persistent: Demonstrates the willingness to go the distance to get something done
- Flexible: Adjusts quickly to changing priorities and conditions
- High standards for personal and team performance
- Solicits feedback and reacts calmly to it
- Eager to learn with humility
